WORK EXPERIENCE

Full Stack Development
Thera Technology

January 2023 – December 2024

At Thera Technology, I contributed to web application development with a strong focus on back-end systems and system integration. I was responsible for building and maintaining server-side systems to ensure application stability, designing and optimizing databases for high performance, and implementing API integrations with external services to enhance system functionality. In addition, I performed thorough testing and debugging processes to ensure security, reliability, and overall system quality before deployment to end-users.

Full Stack Development
Parikesit Property

January 2022 – December 2022

During my internship at Parikesit Property, I contributed to application development with a focus on version control and team collaboration using Git to ensure code quality and workflow efficiency. I assisted in deployment and DevOps processes, including automating workflows to streamline application delivery. My responsibilities also included system optimization and performance tuning to improve speed and efficiency, as well as handling troubleshooting and maintenance to maintain application stability. Additionally, I implemented security best practices to safeguard data and applications against potential risks.
